Adoration

"The Church and the world have a great need for Eucharistic worship. Jesus awaits us in this Sacrament of love. Let us not refuse the time to go meet Him in Adoration, in contemplation full of faith, and open to making amends for the serious offenses and crimes of the world. Let our Adoration never cease." Catechism of the Catholic Church Paragraph 1380.

What to do in Adoration?

1. Pray the Psalms or the Liturgy of the Hours. Whether you are praising, giving thanks, asking for forgiveness or seeking an answer, you'll find an appropriate psalm. The ancient prayer of the Church, called the Liturgy of the Hours, presents an excellent way to pray through the book of Psalms throughout the year.

2. Recite the "Jesus Prayer." Say "Lord Jesus Christ, have mercy on me a sinner," repeatedly as you quiet your heart and mind.

Pastor's Page

SHOULD I GET ONE OF THE COVID-19 VACCINES?

I hope you are doing well. As your pastor, in conjunction with our staff, I am keenly aware of the great ordeal we have all been facing during the COVID-19 pandemic that is the signature issue of 2020.

First, I wish to affirm that it is an immense pleasure for our parish team to serve you. We remain committed to continuing to serve in every way possible--as we have done during the lock down. We will adjust in any way necessary in order to remain pastorally present to our parishioners.

Second, it is inevitable that during the current spike, anxiety levels run high for many of us. Some may fear sickness, especially if you deal with underlying health issues. Others may have financial worries arising from the lock down. Some may even be sadly mourning the loss of a dear loved one or friend due to COVID-19. There are also some among us who are anxious about moving forward into an uncertain future. There may even be other concerns, but in all cases I invite us to NOT LOSE HOPE.

We can hold on to hope because both scientists and doctors assure us that ALL pandemics follow a cycle. There is an initial spike, a secondary spike, and the good news is that the pandemic will end by nature's design. This is scary, particularly when a deadly new virus hits us. We don't know how to treat it, and there is a mounting death toll.

We can hold on to hope because modern medicine affords us the ability to learn how to treat pandemics effectively in record time. While some may question this, the recovery rate for those infected by COVID-19 is greater than ninety-nine percent. This should not make us dismissive of the danger of COVID. It should help us hold on to hope.

There is much more to say about holding on to hope, especially as we enter Advent--a season of hope. The people who lived in darkness, have seen a great Light. (Isaiah 9:2)

One concern that is on many people's minds concerns COVID-19 vaccines. There are at least three already, and others are being developed. Some question the safety of a vaccine developed at "warp speed." Personally, I do not worry in that regard, but everyone is entitled to their own informed opinions about this.

The other main issue for some is whether it is moral to take not only the COVID-19 vaccine, but any vaccine. From a pastoral perspective, this is the more significant issue. The link below is useful information, which I do not believe is controversial. The bottom line is that so far two of the options (Moderna and Pfizer) for a COVID-19 vaccination are morally permissible. The AstraZeneca option, however, is derived from cell lines linked to past abortions, so should not be used.

The choice whether or not to be vaccinated at all is entirely at the discretion of the patient in consultation with medical professionals and family members. Either option may be legitimate, morally speaking, from the Church's perspective. Every person and family has its own considerations for health and well-being. The following helpful links are on the christtheredeemer.us website:
